Office Action Summary

Art Unit: 2834

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless --

(a) the invention was known or used by others in this country, or patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country, before the invention thereof by the applicant for a patent.

Claims 1-6 and 8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(a) as being anticipated by Ishida.

Note fig. 5 of Ishida, since the glass cover is hermetically sealed to close the case it is assumed that this is done after sealing the upper and lower halves. This allows removal of contaminants in a known manner.

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-6, 8, 10-13 and 15-22 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Ishida in view of Fisher, Staudte or Kobayashi.

Assuming arguendo, that Ishida does not explicitly teach leaving the adjustment window open until adjustment is complete, each of Fischer (#30) col. 4 ln 15-20). Staudte (#30) and Kobayashi (Fig. 7) teach leaving a small opening to last to hermetically seal a device. As known, such a technique allows out-gasses to be purged from the interior prior to sealing. Thus for the known, expected benefit, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to leave the window of Ishida open while the base and top are joined.

Claims 10-13 and 15-22 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Ishida.

Ishida (fig. 5) teaches the claimed structure except for some specific dimensions and coatings on the edge of the opening and the cover attached to close the opening. However, providing brazing and/or solder to form a hermetic seal is well known per se, and using these conventional sealing means for the opening cover of Nagai would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art.
